Yes, we've entered the world of podcasting! The Ryan's Well podcast features guest hosts and visitors who share their knowledge on water issues and much more! They live on our YouTube channel. (@RyansWellFoundation)

From Ryan

Back in 2002, a year after the Ryan's Well Foundation was founded, I was just entering grade 5. It was an exciting time, to say the least! The foundation had just begun the year prior, with a small office set up in the downstairs of my family home and volunteers helping us get on our feet. That year, I gave over 100 speeches all around the world to fundraise for clean water projects. When I gave presentations, I think what shocked people and other kids the most was how ordinary we were. We were just a simple family trying to bring water to those who needed it most. What began as a dream became a movement, and now we're fortunate to have completed 1,767 water projects, bringing clean water to those in need. From the beginning and even today, we pride ourselves on being a small organization but mighty in the quality of our work. We are vigorous about our principles to help those who need it most, with 87.5 cents of every dollar we fundraise going directly towards our charitable programs. Thank you to our volunteers, donors, and supporters who do extraordinary things to help elevate people around the world by giving the gift of clean water. We couldn't be more thankful for your support and will strive to help give everyone in this world access to clean water.

With gratitude,
Ryan Hreljac

Build Report

I am super excited to report that all our 62 Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene (WASH) projects for the 2023/2024 fiscal year were completed on time and within budget. This monitoring and evaluation exercise covered a total of 90 sites including those (28) unmonitored in 22/23. Projects included water sites, gender- and disability-inclusive improved pit latrines, and rainwater harvesting tanks. The 23/24 WASH projects are now benefiting a total of 105,905 people in Ghana and Uganda. These projects not only met their objectives but also have created a lasting positive impact on the communities served. The benefits continue to contribute to the development and well-being of these regions.

We love educating students on the importance of clean and safe water as well as the rewards of helping those in need. With his many presentations, either in person or by video, Ryan motivates and encourages students to follow their own passions.

The 2024/2025 School Challenge

It's easy to join: no need to sign up or register! Any donations raised by schools will automatically be directed towards our current school challenge. Our website provides details as well as fundraising tips and motivational stories. And, as always, we are here to help if any questions come up.

Ryan's Well has been very touched and honoured by the donations we have received over the years in memory of someone who has passed. What an amazing legacy - improving the lives of those they will never meet but who will be forever grateful.

“Uwe Boecker- described as one of a kind - someone who went above and beyond with his generosity. He was also known as saying “Oh vell (Oh well spoken in his native German) We know he would be happy with the decision to translate his oh vell into “Eau Well” and be part of making a change”.

A large, spreading acacia tree stands in a dry, open savanna landscape. An elephant is visible in the foreground, standing near the base of the tree. In the distance, several small, dark islands are visible on the horizon under a clear sky. The image is framed by a blue border with a white diagonal stripe.
